

Dina Renee Weiss co-owns The Lighthouse Institute Inc., where she serves as a financial, life and business coach, as well as the Chief Investment Officer for the firm. In addition, she is the co-owner of The Village, an organization designed to charitably provide practical, real-world educational resources to people of all ages, all backgrounds, and all walks of life. She has long been a writer, primarily in theatrical arts, comedy and poetry, but now tailors her writing towards practical and easily-implemented guides to developing a sense of ownership and personal responsibility for every aspect of an individual's life.

Dina Weiss began her career in the financial services industry in 2005, and built her reputation from the foundation up, focusing initially on the clients themselves, building trust and establishing a strong rapport prior to engaging in a financial planning and management relationship. She has carried that client-centered and educational philosophy into her investment and financial planning approach, working with generations of families to ensure proper and full understanding of the financial responsibility of daily life, as well as the investment process and those options available in today's diverse and complicated investment marketplace.

Dina aims to help individuals determine their goals, understand their individual risk-philosophies, manage that risk through the design of a comprehensive planning package, implement a well-organized plan of action, and finally embrace a disciplined approach to investing. She is firmly committed to her clients and looks to add value by providing timely, consistent and ongoing service.

Outside of her professional pursuits, Dina also holds her certification as a holistic health practitioner and has philanthropically provided health coaching services to more than 1,100 individuals seeking to live their best life. She volunteers her time and efforts as much as possible and sees the greatest reward in her life as the success of those who seek her guidance.
